Bronco Exhibit Gallery to Open Fall Show

The Bronco Exhibit Gallery announces its fall show opening on September 25, 2003 beginning at 5p.m.

The show will feature artwork by Jared Mees, Kristin Taylor, and Joanna Maglio. Jared Mees, a community artist, works in the genre of post-graffiti art and has numerous shows around southern California. Kristin Taylor, a Cal Poly Pomona student and ASI staff member, specializes in graphite sketches depicting floral still-life. Joanna Maglio, of Pomona is a prolific quadriplegic impressionist artist.

The opening event will also feature a live performance by singer/songwriter Thena Dare. Under the study of Tierney Sutton and Carmen Bradford at UCLA's Thorton School of Music at UCLA's, Thena strengthened her singing and songwriting to develop her own unique jazz style. Thena has performed at various venues across Southern California and has self-produced two albums. Her latest album "Eidolon" was released in October 2001.

The Bronco Exhibit Gallery features student, faculty, staff, alumni, and community artists and is managed by Associated Students, Inc. (ASI). The gallery is located in the Bronco Student Center on the 2nd floor between the Ursa Major Suite and ASI Conference and Event Services.
