

MEDIA RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
March 18, 2009

Cal Poly Pomona Bronco Basketball Advances to Hawaii for NCAA West Region Finals Bronco Student Center to Host Webcast of Game

POMONA, Calif. — March 18, 2009 — Third-seeded Cal Poly Pomona Bronco

Basketball will play Brigham Young University Hawaii today, March 18, in Laie, Hawaii for a spot in the NCAA Division II Quarterfinals. The Broncos secured their place in the West Region Finals after defeating Seattle Pacific 80-62 in Bellingham, Washington, Saturday.

One of the strongest seasons in years for CPP men's basketball, the Broncos must battle top-seed BYU-Hawaii to continue in their quest for a D-II championship. The Seaside (27-1) have returned to the regional finals for the second straight year and are ranked third nationally.

Recognizing fans interest in the away game, Bronco Athletics in collaboration with Associated Students Incorporated, are pleased to host a viewing of the Sweet 16 contest. Fans will be able to watch the live webcast in the Ursa Minor Suite of the Bronco Student Center (Bldg. 35-2135), tonight at 10:30 p.m. PST. Round 3 of the NCAA Championship will also be streamed online at www.byutv.org.

For more information on Cal Poly Pomona Men's Basketball, contact Lorena Marquez at marquez@csupomona.edu or visit www.broncoathletics.com.

###