Kid's University Now Accepting Enrollment

The Cal Poly Pomona Children's Center is announcing Kid's University - its licensed summer enrichment program. In its second year, the Kid's University program will provide a stimulating educational environment for children ages six to ten years of age.

Children participating in the program will receive safe learning experiences that will support student development in the areas of art, music, language development, math, science, and computers. Curricular activities offered will be swimming, with trained lifeguards on duty, volleyball, soccer, on-campus fieldtrips, movies, and much more. Each day, students will receive two nutritional snacks and a bag lunch provided by Los Olivos.

Kid's University, licensed by the State of California Department of Social Services Community Care, will accept 20 students. Space is limited. Priority will be given to Cal Poly Pomona student-parent families. Limited space will be offered to faculty/staff families, and then to community members, if space is available. The cost is $125 weekly per student with a one-time $50 enrollment charge.

The Children's Center is located on the Cal Poly Pomona campus and is a non-profit organization operated by Associated Students Inc. in partnership with the Division of Student Affairs.

Kid's University will begin June 21 and end on September 3, 2004. The program will run Monday through Friday between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. For enrollment information please contact Shannon Picinisco at (909) 869-4785.
